Q: Dynamic change on Ubuntu 14.04 I need to change the keyboard layout on Ubuntu 14.04 For example: "Ctrl + Alt +" on my keyboard is used for switching workspaces. I need to change it on 4th, how do I do that? A: With X: sudo -H gedit /etc/default/keyboard Change the value of XKBLAYOUT="intl:us" to XKBLAYOUT="us" Then run: sudo update-alternatives --set xkb-options /etc/X11/xorg.conf.d/10-evdev.conf Restart X: sudo service lightdm restart Q: How to reference an element with class without ID? I'm trying to use a function that requires an element to be referenced with the class of the div instead of the ID. Basically, I just want the current post to make the call to the button. It's for a slideshow, so the same button needs to be added to all of the slideshows, but I've got the id set, and I would prefer to use the class. JS is below: var c=0; $("
